

Another Item of Interest

Has Been Added to the Great Surprise Sale

NOW GOING ON AT OUR STORE.

300 PAIR

Men's Sample Gloves.

No two pairs alike---every kind of known leather is represented in the lot, and every grade from a good 50c glove to the fine COW BOY BUCKSKIN GAUNTLETT $2.50. We bought the lot at ONE-THIRD OFF and are offering them to our customers at 1-3 OFF.

You Should See Them.

J. H. ANDERSON & CO.

Remember

WE ARE

The Agents

FOR THE

Emmerson Shoe

And Get Them

Direct From the Factory.

Just Received

A New Lot.

Burnett & Quarles.

Successors to

PETREE & COMPANY.

Sign of the Big Boot.

The Great Annual "COLD WAVE" SALE

—BEGINS—

TUESDAY MORNING

With

Many Mighty Wonders.

SEE CIRCULARS FOR PARTICULARS.

Bassett & Co.
WRECKERS OF HIGH PRICES

Bassett & Co.
WRECKERS OF HIGH PRICES

GONE GOSLINGS.

Court of Appeals Sustains The Injunction Suit.

Taylor's Rump Commission Has No Right To Hold Office.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—The Court of appeals this morning, the full bench sitting and Chief Justice Hazelrigg delivering the opinion, reinstated the injunction granted and set aside by Circuit Judge Cantrell to restrain Appellate Clerk Sam Shackelford from qualifying the men appointed by Gov. Taylor as State Election Commissioners to succeed Judge Pryor and Capt. Ellis, and to restrain them from attempting to act as such officers.

The attorneys for the appointees of Gov. Taylor relied for the authority to appoint on Section 152 and 76 of the Constitution.

The court holds that Sections 152 only authorizes the Governor to fill vacancies by appointment in elective offices; that is, elective offices by the people at the polls. That this construction had been placed on this section by the court in two or three cases decided some years ago. The court holds that Section 152 has no application whatever to offices that are appointive by the Legislature.

As regards Section 76 of the Constitution, which was relied on by counsel for the Republicans, the court finds that this section appears along with the sections regarding the creation of the Executive Department of the State, where the Constitution provides that the supreme executive power of the Commonwealth shall be vested in a Chief Magistrate to be called "Governor," further providing his term of office and that he shall be commander-in-Chief of the army of the Commonwealth, etc. Section 76, the court says, gives the Governor the general authority to fill vacancies by granting commissions.

The court holds that this is simply the original and general authority given the Governor to appoint to fill vacancies in offices where the Constitution expressly provides that the vacancies may be filled.

That the Constitutional Assembly, when creating the executive department, gave the Governor the general original authority to fill vacancies by granting commissions. Later along in the Constitution, it is provided expressly, the vacancies in office that the Governor may fill—circuit judges and judges of the Court of Appeals and other offices where commissions are required.

The court further holds that the constitutional authority of the General Assembly to create and appoint the State Board of Election Commissioners tends strongly to show that the General Assembly was to provide how a vacancy in the board may be filled, and this is true unless the constitution expressly prohibits this, and it can be clearly implied from the Constitution that General Assembly is prohibited from making such a provision. The court holds that there is no express provision prohibiting such exercise of authority by the General Assembly, nor can it be clearly implied from the Constitution that this authority should be denied to the Legislature.

BURGLAR DETECTED

While Robbing Judge W. P. Winfree's House.

Judge W. P. Winfree's house on the corner of Virginia and 16th streets was entered by a burglar Wednesday night. The intruder got in the window of an unoccupied room and went first into the family room, where he got Judge Winfree's trousers and taking them into the adjoining room took from them his purse containing a few dollars in change. He next went into another bedroom and while ransacking that awoke a lady member of the family. She gave an outcry and the burglar jumped from the open window and escaped. As the thief was frightened off before completing his work, the loss was slight. He overlooked Judge Winfree's gold watch and seemed to be after money only.

DEATH NEAR PEMBROKE.

Well Known Farmer a Victim Of Pneumonia.

Mr. Adolphus Combs died at his home a few miles East of Pembroke Monday night, after an illness of about two weeks, of pneumonia. He was about forty years old and leaves a widow and several children. The interment took place Tuesday in the family burying ground.

BLOOD FLOWS.

Shocking Tragedy in the Lobby of a Frankfort Hotel.

Ex-Congressman David G. Colson and Lieut. Ethelbert Scott Principals in the Affair.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—A shocking tragedy, in which the lives of three prominent men were sacrificed and that of a fourth hangs by a slender thread, while two others miraculously escaped with painful injuries, occurred here at 1 o'clock to-day.

The principals in the tragedy were ex-Congressman David G. Colson, of Middlesboro, and Lieut. Ethelbert Scott, of Somerset. Scott was shot six times by Colson and almost instantly killed.

Luther W. Demaree, assistant postmaster at Shelbyville, an innocent by-stander, was shot three times and died instantly. Charles Julian, another by-stander, was shot and died a half hour later, and Capt. B. B. Golden, of Barbourville, Commonwealth's Attorney, of the Twenty-seventh Judicial District, was shot in the back and is not expected to survive the night.

Col. Colson, himself was shot twice in the arm, Harry McEwina, of Louisville, was shot in the foot, and O. D. Redpath, of Chicago, sustained a broken leg by the lifeless form of Scott falling against him as it rolled down the railway.

The tragedy is one of the most sensational in the history of "the dark and bloody ground."

Scene of the Killing.

The killing occurred in the lobby of the Capital Hotel, the principal hostelry of the State capital, the room being well filled at the time

Moayon's BIG STORE wants to see you. Special inducements for Friday and Saturday.

Did you attend Moayon's Big Sale, if not go there at once. All goods sold at MARVELOUS prices.